Webpage updates

The TEPDL website has a new, fresh look with all of the same great information! Please note that the TEPDL section has moved to dpi.wi.gov/tepd. We appreciate your patience during this exciting transition, as we are still working on updating all the links. We apologize for the inconvenience this causes while this is completed.

2015 Legislative Changes

Changes and additions were made to licensure requirements and processes as part of the 2015 state budget (2015 Act 55). The DPI is working to understand the changes and create new procedures to implement the legislation. More detailed information and guidance will be posted as soon as possible. Updates will be posted on our website and the TEPDL blog (<http://dpiwis-tepd.blogspot.com/>).

- We are now accepting applications for the Experienced-based License in Technology Education. Please go to its pathway page for information and directions on how to apply.
- Teachers and administrators who hold a valid license in good standing from another state, have at least one year of experience under that license, and have an offer of employment from a school in Wisconsin can now apply through our License Based on Reciprocity Pathway.
- We are now accepting applications for the Montessori teacher license. For more information, please see <http://dpi.wi.gov/tepd/pathways/montessori>.
